Correct

BillyG,

No doubt world leaders and titans of industry have noticed the recent pause in the steady stream of death threats they receive daily, and are worried about my health, but you're the only one who sent a "Get Sicker" card...

Nonetheless, I must put off catching up on my thinly veiled threats of ChainSaw Justice for a bit longer, in order to address an even more important concern, namely: "How the hell can fag girls be so cute and make such great music, when Janet Reno is so fucking butt-ugly and can only make bizarre, senseless noise?"

Anyway, when you see the $on Little$ystems and Nut$craps crowd, tell them that the crazy Canuck who used to roam their hallways screaming, "Give your software away, you fucking idiots...you'll get filthy fucking rich!" now says, "Hi...and go fuck yourself."

It's bad enough that Corporate A$$holes (TM) want me to call a game, "The MegaCorp Making Money Off Of Amateur Athlete$ Bowl", but when the fuckers start making Micro$not Ba$hing (TM) a corporate game where the players wear shirts with little animals where the pocket for your butts is supposed to be...

Oil the fucking chainsaw, eh?

In my last thinly veiled death threat to BadBillyC, I told him to tell Ms. Justice-Is-Not-Only-BLIND-It's-UGLY-Too that "MICRO$NOT is to INSLAW...as...ChainSaws are to ButterKnives."

It had nothing to do with the Indigo Girls CD that woke me up this morning reminding me of Indio, Indians and INSLAW, and everything to do with Micro$not Ba$hing (TM) being every bit as sacred as having a butt on the crapper in the morning. When America can no longer count on the Little Guy to war against such basic human degradations as Life Under DOS, then we are doomed--individually and as a nation.

BadBillyC,

I thought you'd finally come to your senses.

The headline read, "Clinton Urges Feinstein To Run." Delighted, I scanned the page for the picture of you pumping a round into the riot gun, with a caption quoting you as saying, "I'm going to count to ten..." Sadly, upon reading the accompanying news blurb, it became apparent that the women in your life give you just as much trouble when you're keeping Little Peter out of the relationship, as they do when you let him bend you to his will.

Jesus, BillyC, where do you get these broads?

It's par for the course for a politician to have the morals of a two dollar whore, but when they have the brains and the heart of a two dollar whore, as well, then you can't hang out with them without "gettin' some on'ya."

As far as that mutt-faced, child-murdering bitch in Justice goes, I assumed that Buddy was brought in to replace her, but I was wrong again.

If that dumb Nazi cunt keeps popping up in the SunSite GunSight I've got trained on BadBillyG, then I'm going to take care of her sorry ass by telling BillyG how to tie her tubes in a knot.

1. Buy the Branch Davidian compound in Waco, and begin construction on the new MicroSoft Headquarters Building.

2. Place media ads suggesting that the citizens of Redmond consider sending their children to a safer location until the DOJ action against MicroSoft has reached a conclusion.

3. Hold employee fire drills twice a day, and give visitors to MicroSoft Headquarters a sheet containing safety instructions in the event of an armed government assault during their visit.

4. Train bright lights and blaring loudspeakers on the MicroSoft Compound several times per day, in order to prepare employees for

It mystifies me as to why government FUD disseminators seem to think that they can spread Fear, Uncertainty and Disinformation on the InterNet with the same blatant disregard for the facts that they employ in feeding their mainstream media pets. The problem with the wild animals free-ranging on the InterNet, of course, is that not all of them have yet been domesticated and de-fanged. They can, and will, byte back.

The problem that the InterNet poses for those government administrations and agencies that desire to extend the unconstitutional rule of fear and oppression into its bosom is thus:
"The InterNet interprets censorship as damage, and routes around it."
~ John Gilmore

A mountain of lies by unethical, self-serving government entities is incapable of blocking the access of the citizens to the millions of molehills strewn about the InterNet which are capable of bringing the garbage that the government buries underground to the surface, where the sight and stench of it will be available to those who wish to know the truth.

The government does not have the resources to intimidate and persecute the millions of individuals who are capable of placing hard evidence of government lies on their website, or of stopping the legal dissemination of US Forbidden Information (TM) to foreign countries, such as Canada, and the legal forwarding of it to a variety of countries around the world through a Canadian ISP, such as Sympatico,

I amazes me that a US citizen is subject to imprisonment for sending the same material to a foreign country that she can legally send to the email addresses of foreign nationals and foreign embassy employees within the US.

It particularly amazes me that those who manage to get elected to high office by promising to be 'tough on crime,' and who stress the need for the citizens to be protected from savage crimes--such as, say...murdering those in authority--by labelling as criminals and punishing those who do such things, would be so eager to enact so many far-reaching laws that an increasing majority of the citizens are, in fact, becoming criminals and thus have increasingly little to lose by resisting the government's declared intention to punish them.

The government goes to great pains to convince the citizens that violence and killing is justified when it is directed toward The Bad Guys (TM). Well, when you become a criminal, guess who The Bad Guys (TM) are...
